Internet Safety Workshop

Run by Alison Watts from CEOP

On Wednesday 16th March

Venue: On Zoom

From: 10-11am

ThinkUKnow is a national education and awareness programme developed by CEOP (Child Exploitation and Online Protection) using their unique experience and expertise in the online behaviours of children and young people. The workshop provides age appropriate information about online risks and guidance to help children and young people keep themselves safe online and shows parents what they need to be on the look out for. All information emphasises the positive aspects of the internet, whilst highlighting the risks and how to stay in control of them.
